

The 2021 Queensland Disaster Management Research Forum

Looking Back – Being Present – Looking Forward

Date: Wednesday July 14th 2021

Venue: Queensland State Library – Auditorium One

Cost: Registration is free – but essential

Registration: Eventbrite Link

The theme for the inaugural Queensland Disaster Management Research Forum is looking back, being present, looking forward. How do we use research and practice together to approach disaster management challenges and opportunities? How do we collaborate to achieve outcomes?

Expressions of interest are now open for:

- 15 minute presentations showcasing research/sector collaborations
- Posters & case studies from early career researchers
- Vox pops (2-3 minute video presentations)

Across topics including: Behaviour Change; Resilience; Environmental Change; Cascading Disasters; Recovery; Built Environment; Infrastructure; Social Impacts; Community Engagement.

Deadline for EOI submissions is Monday the 15th of February 2021. Please submit via the following links:

FORM or

The Queensland Disaster Management Research Framework is an ongoing program supporting collaboration and knowledge exchange between the research and disaster management sectors. If you would like to showcase your work or learn more about the disaster management research in Queensland, please visit www.igem.qld.gov.au/research or email R&E@igem.qld.gov.au.