Our opportunities

To influence and lead in a sector that is dedicated to building a more resilient Queensland.

To access research institutions committed to finding solutions to the sector's challenges.

To access emerging technologies and practice that can be adopted to provide continuous improvement in the disaster management sector.

Our risks

Concurrent and cascading events reduce our ability to effectively engage with stakeholders resulting in limited or incomplete evaluations.

Delivery timeframes placing pressure on assurance activities, limiting quality engagement opportunities.

Attracting, retaining and skilling a highly diverse and flexible workforce capable of providing leadership to meet unpredictable demand.
